Freedom Summits
7 September 2015 ·

Nicole McLachlan is a marine activist and ocean conservationist and at the forefront of public relations for Sea Shepherd Australia. A highly knowledgeable and experienced speaker, she has addressed audiences from primary school classrooms to music festival revellers with equal confidence and ability.
In 2010, Nicole joined Sea Shepherd at the notorious killing cove at Taiji, Japan to help document and expose the slaughter of dolphins and small whales.
Acutely aware of the necessity to protect a healthy and balanced ocean environment, Nicole is a very welcome addition to the Freedom Summits schedule of speakers.
